

Edward Maurice Haynes of Asheville, North Carolina was convicted in Buncombe County District Court on June 16, 2009 of practicing land surveying on an expired certificate of licensure in violation of G.S. 89C-16, 23. Mr. Haynes received a 45 day suspended sentence, 12 months of unsupervised probation, $100 fine, court costs and was ordered to surrender his land surveyor's certificate of licensure and seal.

The Board had previously disciplined Mr. Haynes for practicing on an expired license and ordered him to cease and desist practicing or offering to practice land surveying until he became properly licensed. Mr. Haynes subsequently had his license reinstated and was disciplined again, which resulted in the Board refusing to renew his license. Criminal charges were filed upon discovering that Mr. Haynes continued to practice land surveying without a license.

Anyone with knowledge of Mr. Haynes continuing to practice land surveying is encouraged to contact the Board.
